Reflections from St James Lenten Group

March 8-14

'If we have not learned to assist those in need, even the death and resurrection of Christ will be of little benefit to us.' (Luke 16:30-31)

This week's readings, prayers and reflections builds on last week's themes of our human weakness and struggles – and our constant need for assistance. As well, we are reminded that the only way that we can be with Him, 'is if we love him for who he is, and not just for what he can do for us'.

Living with humility, having trust and being true to who we are is vital in our service to others and has 'profound implications for who we are spiritually'. (Matt 25:31-46) Our God who calls us to a relationship with Him is, 'willing to assist us in growing' but we must also be receptive to asking for His help and His forgiveness which is to be an example to us all. 'That God can forgive anyone anything, what does that say about what we are called to do.' (Reflection – March 6)

As well, in March 8th reflection, we are told that - through our baptism we become 'a priest, a prophet and a king' (Catechism n. 783-786) and 'As a king, you have innate dignity in God's eyes, and you have authority to offer leadership in the Church and the world. As a prophet, you are to proclaim God's word to the world through everything you are, do and say.' Let us go forth, bravely with God's blessing and humility, to forgive and 'to live in peace with one another and the whole of creation'.

BRINGING HOME THE GOSPEL

Living in the Light

John's Gospel talks a lot about light and darkness. In the very first paragraph of his Gospel, John tells us that Jesus is the light of the world. John makes it very clear that we must live in the light, live in Jesus, if we are to have eternal life.

In this reading we hear the famous quote from John 3:16 that we see so often cited by Christian fans at football games: Jesus came, "so that everyone who believes in him may not perish, but may have eternal life." It is important to note that the eternal life Jesus offers us is not just a heavenly kingdom after we die—eternal life means much more.

The life we were born with is limited and finite. We know that every breath we take brings us closer to our physical deaths. The years and gravity take their toll on us, but what Jesus offers us is life outside of time and gravity. It is beyond the wounds and handicaps of our physical world, but it is also very much here and now.

Jesus offers us his life—life with, and in the Triune God in whom we believe. We come to this divine life by fully embracing our human life, just as Jesus did. We accept the limitedness of our humanity with all the pain and joy that entails. We do not suppress our human nature but engage in it fully, always drawn to the light that is Jesus.

We are asked to live each day in the truth of our eternal life so that "...it may be clearly seen that [our] deeds have been done in God" (John 3:21). There is no dichotomy—no spiritual above physical life. Teach your children to value the finite world, especially themselves, body, mind and spirit—one package—loved by God with all its blemishes.

FAMILY RESPONSE

Take turns telling what you like about each other. Talk about each person's physical as well as spiritual qualities.

PERSONAL RESPONSE

It is so important to always tell our children the truth. Their trust in us, and sometimes their trust in others later in life, is dependent on it. How good are you at always telling the truth? What do you want to remember from last week? What are you looking forward to next week? What are your concerns?

"By grace you have been saved by faith, and this is not from you; it is the gift of God."

Sheepish Question:

Recently, how have I experienced God's grace in spite of my failures?

Justice Challenge

March 14th, 2021 • 4th Week in Lent

The Gospel reading teaches us that God loved us so much that he sent his only Son into the world. The Son brought light into the darkness of sin in our lives. Jesus told us that we also are the light of the world. Your challenge this week is to look at where in our world sin has brought darkness—through greed or hate or violence or prejudice. Then reflect on how you can bring light into this ugly situation. How can you be a light in the world for those who live in darkness?

St. James Parish acknowledges the Jaggera People of Coorparoo as the traditional owners of the land on which we live.

PROJECT COMPASSION BE MORE

Arsad, an Indonesian farmer, had no toilet, so he and his family always had to walk into the forest to an open defecation area. His family was often sick and open defecation caused many neighbourhood disputes. With the support of Caritas Australia and its partner, Laz Harfa, Arsad took part in hygiene, sanitation and financial management training. He then funded the building of a toilet in his house and helped other community members to save for toilets. Now Arsad's family is healthier. Their community no longer practices open defecation and is more harmonious. Arsad inspired his community to 'Be More.'

Please donate to Project Compassion 2021 and support people like Oliva's gain access to education to build a brighter future and live in communities that upholds everyone's dignity. You can donate by visiting www.caritas.org.au/projectcompassion or phoning 1800 024 413.
